

EXHIBIT F

Tweet posted by Paul Gift
(@MMAanalytics) on Twitter, dated November 3rd,
2018 at 2:20 AM

Home

Moments

Search Twitter

Q

Have an account? Log in

X

Paul Gift
@MMAanalytics

Follow

Mersch seems to be lawyering his answers here. Not buying his relationship repaired statement. I'd just be happy a competitor wasn't around anymore.

Q. And the Affliction clothing was back in the UFC fold because Affliction had stopped the M promotion business, correct?

A. I would assume that that was one of the factors. I don't recall all of the details surrounding why -- what -- what negotiations took place between either Dana, Lorenzo, and -- and -- and the people that run Affliction. But obviously it appears that -- without reading the article, it appears that at some point that that was agreed to.

Q. And when you said "our main rival is done," you were referring to Affliction as an MMA promotion no longer being an MMA promotion, correct?

A. I spoke with Mr. Mulvey and Mr. Raccia on a fairly regular basis in the -- much of what I was

2:20 AM - 3 Nov 2018

1 Like

© 2018 Twitter About Help Center Terms Privacy policy Cookies Ads info

Paul Gift
@MMAanalytics

Sports economist, MBA professor, Licensed MMA referee & judge. Writing about MMA biz at @ForbesSports & MMA analytics etc. at @BloodyElbow.

Los Angeles

bacholi.pepperdine.edu/about/people/faculty/paul-gift/

Joined March 2012

© 2018 Twitter About Help Center Terms Privacy policy Cookies Ads info